Economies for Justice and Care

SYNERGISTIC ACCOUNTING

A Revolutionary Framework for Multi-domain Reciprocity

Synergistic Accounting recognises that the real inputs, as contributions, include more than labour, time and money. They include proximity to the problem space, judgment, convening power, care, repair, relational labour, reputational exposure, and institutional legitimacy. If those are real inputs, then the economic form must be able to recognise them as such, not through informal gratitude, but through participation rights and exchanges.

Transform how your enterprise creates value beyond the tyranny of money.

2. Provisioning for growth without 100% monetary dependence. Discover abundant resources across all twelve domains of value
3. Creating powerful alliances and sponsoring partnerships. Build relationships grounded in relational coordination and mutual benefit
4. Starting enterprises using the tools you have. Launch ventures recognising all available resources, not just capital
5. Creating complementary currencies for communities. Design systems that unlock trapped potential and meet unmet needs

The Challenge We Face

When Money Becomes the Only Measure

Your enterprise knows this truth:

- Immense value goes unrecognised and unrewarded
- Teams operate in silos, missing synergistic potential
- Provisioning relies on extractive capital models
- Community resources remain trapped and underutilised
- The most precious contributions—care, wisdom, relationships—vanish from the balance sheet

There is another way.

A path of relational coordination where we create economies of justice and care.

Introducing Synergistic Accounting

Beyond Traditional Economics

Synergistic Accounting is a comprehensive framework that revolutionises how enterprises and communities:

- Account for value in all its dimensions
- Create ecologies of synergy where everyone thrives
- Provision resources without exploitation
- Unlock trapped potential in people and communities
- Build economies based on justice and relational coordination

This isn't just accounting—it's a blueprint for enterprises that honour the whole worth of everything.

The Twelve Domains Framework

Accounting for True Wealth

Traditional accounting sees only one domain. We see six:

1. Matter - Physical resources, infrastructure, tangible assets
2. Currency - Money, credits, tokens, flows of exchange
3. Knowledge - Expertise, wisdom, lived experience, intellectual assets
4. Tools & Artefacts - Processes, technologies, systems, methodologies
5. Warm Data - Relationships, trust, culture, emotional intelligence
6. Wellbeing - Collective capacity to thrive, resilience, regenerative potential

**Repeat the same six for input and output = 12*

Through this lens, your enterprise discovers abundant resources previously invisible.

Your Pathway to Transformation

Phase 1: Assessment. Comprehensive audit of value across all twelve domains

Phase 2: Design. Create systems for multi-domain reciprocity and synergistic collaboration

Phase 3: Implementation. Deploy tools, processes, and frameworks across your enterprise

Phase 4: Evolution. Continuous refinement as your ecology of synergy matures

Each phase deepens your practice of economics for justice and care.
